RECITALS

- A The Ring-fencing Guideline was introduced to promote the National Electricity Objective and to promote competition in the provision of electricity services.
- B The Ring-fencing Guideline imposes certain obligations on Distribution Network Service Providers (DNSPs) including provisions which prevent a Distribution Network Service Provider from conferring a competitive advantage on its Related Electricity Service Providers.
- C In certain circumstances where TasNetworks shares Ring-fenced Information with a Related Electricity Service Provider it is required under clause 4.3 of the Ring-fencing Guideline to provide access to that information on an equal basis to other legal entities who are competing in the provision of Contestable Electricity Services.
- D The Recipient has requested access to Ring-fenced Information via the submission of the TasNetworks Information Register Application Form and has agreed to execute this Deed Poll in consideration of being given access to Ring-fenced Information by TasNetworks.
